i am now gonna tell my doc to try something else cuz if i can't take 1800mg a day then upping the dosage would only make it worse. thank you for this post.

there is no other reason to try to do what he's doing and he's a prick for trying.

subsequent upgrades of existing packaging lines are also possible.

under current law, or does not exist. how do we, as marketers, engage all these shoppers? where are they?
